FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*Superlift Offers 2", 4" & 6" Lift Systems For 2008-09 Dodge Rams HDs

West Monroe, LA – Superlift's late-model Dodge Ram suspension systems are some of the company's best-sellers. Ram owners appreciate these kits' smooth ride, predictable handling and flex.

Superlift has updated its existing Dodge kits to fit 2008-09 3/4- and 1-ton Heavy Duty Rams. Changes include different track-bar hardware and brake-hose relocation brackets that are contoured for the 2008-09 trucks. Also, a new dropped pitman arm is included in the 6" system.

Superlift's 2" Level-It system consists of front coil spacers. Both the 4" and 6" lift kits include engine-specific front coils for Hemi and Cummins applications, closed-cell foam compression travel stops, replacement upper and lower trailing arms to maintain alignment specifications and handling, a track bar bracket, front swaybar extensions, a transmission drop bracket (6" kit for auto-trans applications) and Superide shock absorbers at all four corners. The rear is leveled with tapered blocks to retain OE ride quality.

These Superlift systems are designed to accept factory-offset wheels. The 4" kit fits 35x12.50 tires, and the 6" system (shown) clears 37x12.50s on 8-inch wheels with no further modifications.

Rockrunner upper and lower trailing links are optional. Their internal swivel system frees up more suspension travel while allowing a greater degree of articulation and caster adjustment than Heim ends. Front and rear multi-shock mounts are available, as are a choice of upgraded SS (by Bilstein) monotube shocks or SSR remote-reservoir monotubes. Also, an optional dual-steering stabilizer system is designed to work with Dodge's 2008 steering-linkage changes.

Other options are carrier-bearing shims for Rams that have two-piece rear driveshafts, a transfer-case indexing ring (6" kit), the TruSpeed speed-sensor recalibrator, Torque Max Traction Bars, Bulletproof braided-steel/Kevlar-lined brake hoses and eXtreme Ring diff-cover protectors. Superlift backs all its products with a limited lifetime warranty.
